It's a soft deadline, but we should probably try to get something done in the next couple weeks. Kathleen, I kind of see BaP as ancillary here, especially since I don't necessarily want to muddy the waters about public science meetings when BaP was a little different as a post-peer review meeting. If you're slammed, we could strip out talking about BaP. What do you think?

Salina, what sort of deadline are you working with? I am under a time crunch for my current assessment.

Hello Kathleen and Janice,
I'm writing a blog on the public science meeting that took place in June and I was wondering if you guys could look over it and let me know what you think about it overall and if I captured what occurred in the meeting correctly. This is just the first draft and I'll be working on further revisions.

Thank you very much,
Salina

Hi Salina,

Ex. 5 Deliberative Process (DP)

Once you've incorporated edits from the assessment managers, then we can take a look for communications related issues.
